36 Dodd Strett, Wembley.

Training Fees:

The training fee is $15,400 (including GST). This includes all tuition, teaching materials and required text. A deposit of $3000 + GST is required to secure place in the training. The remaining fees are paid in monthly instalments across the rest of the training.

Training Application:

We now invite applications for this training. If you wish to apply please contact Jonathan Kester < jonakes@globaldial.com > for an application pack. Attendance at a minimum of one Hakomi workshop is a pre-requisite. It is to be noted that we do not have a closing date for applications. Students will be selected as applications are received until course is full.

Because this training is designed as a post-graduate professional training we will give priority to applicants with experience and/or training in psychotherapy, psychology, allied health professions, alternative health practitioners, body workers etc. We also consider the personal qualities of applicants in terms of their capacity to successfully achieve in this training and as such will consider those with life experiences, and other work backgrounds that support training in this work.

Please feel free to contact me, Jules Morgaine, at < jmorgaine@xtra.co.nz > if you have further questions after having looked at the fourteen page training brochure on the website: hakomi.com.au
